OUR STORY

INDIVILLAGE IS A SOCIAL ENTERPRISE FOCUSED ON PROVIDING EDUCATION AND ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY TO RURAL WOMEN AND YOUTH IN INDIA.

Founded in 2009, IndiVillage was created in response to a challenge by former President Dr. A.P. J. Abdul Kalam for entrepreneurs to concentrate their energies on the villages of India. By educating and employing rural women and youth, IndiVillage believes it is possible to empower communities to take control of and improve their lives. These activities are supported by IndiVillage's rural Information Technology (IT) & Information Technology Enabled Services (ITeS) center that reinvests all profits back into the holistic development of the community, IndiVillage envisions a village that invests in its children's education, nurtures its present resources, and commemorates its traditional heritage crafts - all by integrating into the information economy of the 21st century.
